Forever Young

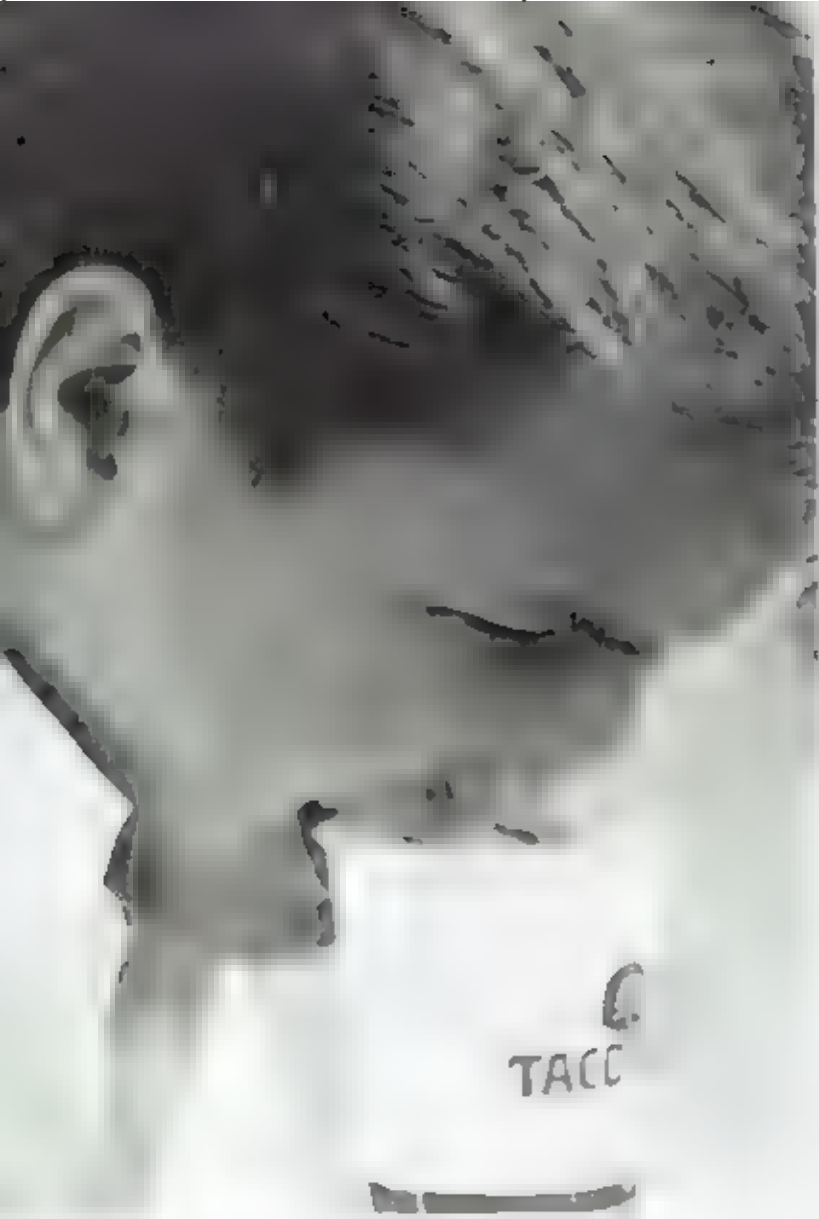

*The things I see, so far away,
Are just like splattered dreams,
For all of life's surprises,
Are just not what they seem,
I look out of my window,
And stare into the sky,
And watch the high school students,
All go walking by,
I try to holler out to them,
To tell them the bitter truth,
For they can't see that What they have
Is the innocence of youth.*

The goal for '87

The right stuff

The thrill of victory.

The dirty dozen head for state

Twass the end of the season and all through the pool Not a swimmer was swimming for we were no fools
The pool at North High School was very unclean
And all of our hair was turning bright green The hair on our legs was shaven sheer Our muscles no longer quivered with fear
The stubble on our arms now gave us a chill
All of our stomachs had much more than their fill The unused school bus still rang with our noise Our laughter, our songs, our tears, and our joys Our record for duals stood with out a defeat Yet - many tears were shed o'er that damn team named Creek We hit many goals
we've made many friends And on these special friendships we'll always depend
The entire season now must lie in our hearts I'm sure my fond memories, our shared special moments, will never depart.

Farmer's Daughters came through again to fight the bitter December cold warming up the night with OMTO. Operation Male Take Over gave senior guys a chance to play homemaker and whip up a dinner for senior girls to bid on. Based on the extremely successful dinner during Homecoming (which the girls cooked), this male followup of DDIBBIB (Double Dinners In Boxes Bodies In Boxers) was a good fundraiser, bringing in money for Fletcher Miller School in Lakewood.

So often we sit and think about the way things were-

The fun and the friends, The joy we all had and the times of just being together. . . .

Times we wondered how we made it

But the bond will still be there.
Friendship will hold us together.*

 I am very glad I got you for a math teacher. There is something about you that takes the "boring" aspect out of math. I hope you continue teaching, and I hope I get you for math again. Best wishes
